

INTERBRANCH TRANSFERS

If you run a multi-location operation, KDS Interbranch Transfers gives you full visibility and control over all movements of stock between warehouses.

Stock Transfer

Minimum tied up capital, rapid response and high levels of customer service are pre-requisites in today's competitive climate. A vital element in achieving this is tight control over inventory, up to the minute information on stock availability and the ability to ensure that stock can be moved between sites quickly and efficiently in response to customer demand.

Benefit from the flexibility of KDS Interbranch Transfers to generate transfers of stock directly from the warehouse, or to replenish stock from a hub depot to a spoke depot using the recommended purchase order routines. At sales order entry, gain immediate access to the latest stock figures and where a shortage is encountered at the usual supplying location, elect either to back order all or part of the order or check availability at other depots and generate a transfer to cover the order.

Direct request for transfer of stock between locations

Goods Inwards

Once generated, interbranch transfers behave in much the same way as any other order. Print pick notes at the issuing warehouse, book stock into the receiving warehouse, then let the system produce the relevant paperwork for invoices or credit notes.

Analysis and Monitoring

Ensure full visibility at all times with the comprehensive reports - these cover interim transfers, transfers awaiting generation, amended transfers and stock in transit. Maintain additional control by keeping optional separate accounting records for transfers between locations.

Key Features

- Initiate transfers from the warehouse, using the recommended order routines, or from within order entry
- Information on stock in transit
- Picking notes and supporting documentation
- Separate accounting records for transfers between locations
